FLAMES CONSUME OLD FLOUR MILL

LANDMARK IS DESTROYED BY FIRE THIS MORNING

WAS ERECTED IN 1868

Owned by the Williams—George Huebuck Puts Up Building—Estimate Damage at $3,000

The old mill, located at the corner of East Second and Market streets, is no more. Fire of unknown origin consumed the old land mark, about the middle of the morning. The estimated damage is $3,000 with no insurance to cover the loss. The building was owned by the E. J. Williams estate.

When the fire was discovered it had made good headway and by the time the fire department arrived at the scene flames were bursting out the windows of the second story. Two streams of water were poured into the buliding, but without avail. A strong southeast wind fanned the angry flames that swirled nearly across the street and burning embers were blown on to the roof of the Star Barn and it was necessary to shoot a stream of water on the roof to keep it from burning.

No machinery or contents of any value were stored in the old mill except for a number of old rubber automobile tires, which were consumed. Telephone and electric light wires running past the building were heated to such an extent that they broke and electric light current was cut off on this line for about an hour and a half.

The building for many years was the scene of great activity, being the first flour mill in Nodaway County. It was erected in 1868 by George Huebuch and was known as the Maryville Flouring Mill. E. J. Williams, who came here from St. Joseph in 1875, purchased the plant and did a thriving business for a number of years. Considerable wheat was ground and lots of flour shipped from here.

The frame of the mill was constructed of Pennsylvania timber. J. G. Grems, who was conducting the old National Hotel, located at the present site of the Linville Hotel, says that at the time of the erection of the mill, he, with several boarders helped raise the frame work.

Up until about three years ago Glover & Alexander occupied the old mill building for grinding feed .

Philadelphia Banditry Wave will Be Halted

General Butler Threatens To Arm 1,000, Firemen Wro Will "Shoot To Kill."

Philadelphia, March 3.—Failure of the police to stop the outbreak of banditry which started here last Friday led Gen. S. D. Butler to declare today that if the crime wave is not halted by tomorrow night, he will arm 1,000 firemen and use them as policemen with orders "to shoot to kill."

Displeasure at the laxity of his men was written on the features of the safety director today as the result of an unheralded tour of the city in which he found conditions "disgusting."

His displeasures may be taken out on the six police inspectors and sergeants who have been summoned to appear before him this afternoon.

Way Is Being Cleared for Compensation Bill

House Ways and Means Committee Holds Hearing on Measure Today —Reported Out This Week.

Washington, March 3.—The soldier bonus bill started through Congress again today.

The House ways and means committee which has considered this legislation so many times that the members know by heart the arguments for and against it, went through the motion of holding a hearing on the adjusted compensation bill.

It is a foregone conclusion that the bill, in the same form as vetoed by the late President Harding, will be reported to the House by the end of the week and the way cleared for its passage.

Officials of the American Legion on the basis of their latest poll of Congress, claimed today there are ample majorities in both houses to pass the bill over the President's veto. President Coolidge's opposition to the bonus is well known.

Gerald Schrader spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seman Schrader of Barnard.

Mystery Still Shrouds Shooting at Mexico

Minister At Liberty On $50,000 Bond, Refuses To Make Statement—Victim May Recover.

Mexico, Mo., March 3.—Local authorities were combing rumors and weighing numerous "tips" today in an effort to establish the motive of the Rev. Asa Q. Burns in shooting R. E. Conger, salesman, late Saturday.

The minister, who is at liberty on a $50,000 bond, was in seclusion and efforts to obtain a statement from him were futile.

Physicians attending Conger said that his condition was not serious and recovery is expected providing pneumonia and other complications do not appear. Interrogations of the minister's wife who was with him at the time of the shooting brought only flat refusals to either comment on the shooting or its cause.

UNREAL IDEALISM GREATEST FAILURE

"WAR CANNOT END WAR," SAYS REV. COOPER.

'TREATY IS COMPROMISE

"Europe Could Not Understand Wilson's Great Passion, and So He Compromised to Get Something."

An unreal idealism was termed Wilson's greatest failure by the Rev. Joseph A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in his sermon last night. The disillusionment together with the 'school-master attitude' plunged America into war and then out again, all because of unreal ideals.

"We have found that the World War was not, nor could not be, a war to end war," the Reverend Mr. Cooper said. "The way to peace is not through war, and Wilson's greatest failure was in thinking that war could bring peace.

"The World War was not a war to end war or a war to save democracy, but it was like the thousands of other wars before it," Mr. Cooper continued.

At the outset of his sermon, the Baptist minister paid a glowing tribute to the late Mr. Wilson, and declared that "we have never had a greater President than Woodrow Wilson. I think history will show that he has been America's first figure in the world at large.

"I think that Woodrow Wilson will go down in history a greater man than Abraham Lincoln, but in spite of all of this there is the real Wilson failure," Mr. Cooper said.

"Woodrow Wilson was an embodiment of the American ideal of peace. He not only spoke these ideals for America but for the democracies of the world, but Wilson did not carry his idealism through," the Reverend Mr. Cooper continued.

This compromise, especiallly at the Versailles Peace Conference, was called another Wilson failure. The whole treaty of peace was a compromise and great injustice and oppression was done the vanquished as victors have always done since the beginning of history, Mr. Cooper continued.

Mr. Wilson could not force his ideals upon the Eurpoean nations who were crying for vengeance and so he compromised and took what he could get, the Baptist minister continued.

"I think that Woodrow Wilson's great passion for peace was so great that he was willing to do almost anything to bring it about," Mr. Cooper said. "His first great failure was the compromise of his idealism. He gave up the fight at the crucial point in the battle.

"I am not saying that no one would have compromised, but I am saying the very fact of a compromise on ideals was one of Mr. Wilson's greatest failures."

HOME LIFE IS IN DANGER OF DECAY

SAYS DR. C. C. JAMES IN SERMON YESTERDAY.

HOME LAWS VIOLATED

Parents Should Teach Children Respect and Should Make Family Life Sacred, Minister Says.

"There are three symptoms of the disease attacking American home life," said Dr. C. C. James in his sermon on, "What's the Matter With the American Home?" at the First M. E. Church yesterday morning. "These are: dissatisfaction with labor, impatience with existing moral standards and making light of the law. In view of these things, are we giving our families a square deal?"

Dr. James told of the various penal institutions in Missouri, emphasizing the number and ages of the inmates. the state penitentiary at Jefferson City has 2,309 inmates, he said, and a number of these are women. Seventy per cent are under 30 years of age, he said, and the average age of entrants for forty years has been from 24 to 35 years. The largest percentage of youths has been sent to the penitentiary during the last five years. The institution at Jefferson City costs the taxpayers $451,000 a year, Dr. James said.

Continuing, the Methodist minister said:

"The Industrial Home at Chillicothe now has 259 girls, the great majority of them are there because of the lack of home training. Bodies and minds write the parents' history of sin. This Industrial Home costs the taxpayers $281,000 a year.

"The State Reformatory at Boonville with 631 inmates, 125 of which are boys from 8 to 12 years of age. They are there because of a broken home nest. Forty percent of their parents are living. This human driftwood costs the state $516,000 a year.

"The colony for the feeble-minded at Marshal has 700 inmates and there are now 500 applications on file. Most of them claim this institution is more pleasant than their homes.

"Ninety per cent of all of our girls sent from the red light districts in our cities to this institution at Marshal are imbeciles.

"The history of our juvenile court is a sad commentary of home training. The city may assess a fine on boys and girls under 17 years old, but cannot collect it. Boys who forge their father's names for permission to play pool and boys and girls on the street until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning are interrogation points of interest.

Dr. James said that too many people live in restaurants and hotels to avoid home-keeping. A continual evolution in that line will lead to revolution which will destroy the home, Dr. James said.

"Parents have a right to know and should know where their children are and who they are with," continued Dr. James. "But how can we expect children to remain at home when the parents are out every night?"

Dr. James said that the child who disrespects the laws of home will violate the Eighteenth or any other amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Why is it necessary to restrain 8,000 Missourians, or one to every 425 persons, if our home life is at par?" asked Dr. James.

The solution of our home problem, the minister said, is to teach the greater things of life and to create better home and moral atmosphere, and to fight the enemies of right.

The services yesterday morning closed with W. S. Larson playing "Home Sweet Home," which was in keeping with the spirit of the service.

M'ADOO IN ANSWER TO REED ATTACKS

"GLARING DISREGARD FOR THE TRUTH," CALIFORNIAN ASSERTS

LETTER TO MANAGER

"Entered Missouri Because I Refused to Submit to Political Blackmail," McAdoo Says

St. Louis, March 3.—Approval of William G. McAdoo's stinging reply to Senator James A. Reed coupled with his refusal to debate campaign issues, is voiced by McAdoo followers here today.

"I am perfectly delighted with Mr. McAdoo's letter," C. C. Oliver, his Missouri campaign manager stated. "He certainly has the estimate of Mr. Reed, and I believe it is shared by the Democrats of Missouri."

The letter from McAdoo to Oliver was made public today.

St. Louis, March 3.—William G. McAdoo of Los Angeles, in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination last night replied to attacks by Senator James A. Reed, denouncing his Missouri opponent in the presidential race as a man "who resorts to the most glaring disregard for truth in his personal attack on me beacuse I would not stay out of Missouri."

The statement by Mr. McAdoo is in the form of a letter to C. C. Oliver, St. Louis, chairman of the McAdoo campaign in Missouri. The letter said:

"I have made it a rule of my life not to enter into personalities in the discussion of public issues. Grave problems confront the nation which cannot be discussed intelligently in an atmosphere of passion, nor solved by vindictive appeals to personalities or prejudices. I should like to lift the discussions of our national affairs to the highest standard of rational and clear-sighted seriousness set by the great Lincoln, who never debated an argument nor attempted to debauch the judgment of the electorate. I must, however, let the American people know the nature of the attempts which are being made to confuse the real issues in the present campaign.

Quotes Reed's Statement.

"Senator Reed of Missouri stated recently as the reason for the vicious attacks which he is making upon me personally that, 'McAdoo publicly announced that he did not intend to enter the lists against any home candidate but for reasons which doubtless are satisfactory to himself, has singled me out as an exception to his general rule. He has come into the state of Missouri and is receiving some support. These conditions force me to make personal references which I would have entirely omitted had I been extended by McAdoo the same courtesy he has extended to others.'

"Here is a real patriot who resorts to the most glaring disregard for the truth in his personal attacks upon me because I would not stay out of Missouri. He criticizes me in a way which 'would have entirely omitted' if I had refused to give the men and women of Missouri an opportunity to express their honest convictions in the selection of delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Refused to be "Blackmailed."

"On Jan. 24, last, Sam Fordyce, representing Senator Reed, called on one of my Washington friends and said that if I entered Missouri the senator would contend against me, especially in Georgia and California. I refused to submit to political blackmail.

"I believe in the old-fashioned Democratic doctrine that the people have the right to select their own servants, even if that right runs counter to the personal ambitions of an alleged candidate for the presidency.

"My refusal to submit to such political blackmail was promptly followed by Reed's move on the floor of the senate to compel the committee on house lands, investigating the Republican oil scandal, to introduce into the record wholly immaterial and irrelevant testimony having nothing whatever to do with the scandal, for the sole purpose of dragging my name, without justification, into the oil inquiry. In this way he is co-operating with the Republican party to divert attention from the graft and corruption involving the members of the present Republican administration, and is thereby giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the Democratic party.

Refers to 1920 Conventions.

HEAVY SNOWFALL DURING FEBRUARY

ACCORDING TO MONTHLY REPORT OF J. R. BRINK

MEASURES 12.75 INCHES

Is Greatest Since February, 1914—Warmer in February Than Normal, Mr. Brink Says

Unusually heavy snowfall is the most outstanding feature of the weather for February. The monthly total was 12.75 inches, which is the heaviest in any calendar month since February, 1914. There were seven snows during the month. The greatest snowfall was in February, 1912, when there was thirty inches, J. R. Brink said today.

The temperature ranged from 1 below zero on February 6 to 69 on February 2. The mean temperature for the month was 32.4 and the term mean temperature for February since the weather records have been kept was 23.3. So the weather was warmer in February than normal. The highest temperature was on February 21, 1922, when it was 74, and the lowest was 28 below zero on February 12, 1899.

The total precipitation during February was 1.78 inches. The greatest precipitation of any February was in 1892 when it was 4.22 inches and the least was .007 of an inch in 1910.

There were seventeen clear days during the month, ten cloudy days and two partly cloudy days.

THRILLS APLENTY IN DAUGHERTY TRIAL

SOME STARTLING DISCLOSURES EXPECTED.

VANDERLIP IN AGAIN

But White House Declares Financier's Charge "Too Ridiculous to Dignify With Denial."

Washington, March 3—The trial of Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney-General, before an admittedly hostile Senate committee may bring the political sensation of a decade.

It is highly probable that more than one political skeleton will be rattled in the light of publicity before the investigation of Daugherty's conduct of the department of justice is completed

While on the face of the record, Daugherty himself is on trial, it is admitted today by political leaders of both sides that the Republican administration, of which he has always been an outstanding figure and chief spokesman, is indirectly on trial.

The Daugherty investigation will spread to practically every branch and department of the administration, for no bureau is so closely related to the departments and branches of the government as the department of justice. It is planned to extend the inquiry into the prohibition unit, internal revenue bureau, the shipping board, the alien property bureau and other departments with which the department of justice is concerned.

The Democrats are confident of getting a conviction, if not actually proving malfeasance on the part of the Attorney-General, at least they expect to force President Coolidge to request his resignation from the cabinet.

On the other hands, Daugherty's friends are equally confident that the investigation will be fruitless insofar as getting anything on Daugherty is concerned.

New York, March 3.—Confronted with the White House denial that President Coolidge had asked for the resignation of Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney-General, but had been refused, Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, today reiterated his charge and said he knew "the exact date and circumstances under which the request occurred."

Washington, March 3.—Frank A. Vanderlip's assertion that President Coolidge asked for the resignation of Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney-General, but had not received it, was characterized at the White House today as "too ridiculous to dignify by a denial."

President Coolidge has not asked for Daugherty's resignation, it was said, but if he does ask it, he will get it.

"I have a new novel coming out in September, but I don't know whether it will suit Jesse L. Lasky or not.

"I went to Monte Carlo the other night. The place is still doing business. The bank did not go broke.

gard to truth and justice attacks me for the furtherance of his ambition?

"He is the man who, because of his disloyalty to the Democratic party, was in 1920 thrown out of the Democratic convention of his own state of Missouri when he sought to be a delegate to the national convention.

"He is the man who was repudiated and denied a seat in the 1920 Democratic national convention at San Francisco when he tried to override the will of the Democrats of his own state and forced his unwelcome presence into the body which was to select the party candidate for the presidency.

"He is the man who was denounced by the legislature of South Carolina a few weeks ago as a traitor to the Democratic party.

Fought Reserve Act.

"He is the man who throughout the last Democratic administration permitted his personal egotism and selfishness to assert itself in opposition to many of the principal measures and policies upon which the success of that administration was staked.

"He is the man who for weeks hampered and obstructed a Democratic president and the Democratic party in the senate in their efforts to achieve for the country a great Federal Reserve act, which was the only thing that saved the nation from bankruptcy during the World war.

"He is the man who had to be forced by a Democratic caucus to act in unison with his fellow Democrats in congress in the framing of that act.

"He is the man who fought woman suffrage to the last ditch and opposed giving to the mothers and women of America the right to go to the polls and help shape the destiny of their country.

"He is the man above all others who has scoffed at the plea of the fathers and mothers, daughters and sons of America, who believed and who still believe that there is a way in which civilization can avoid the brutality of war in the years to come.

Quotes Wilson's Remarks.

"He is the man of whom Woodrow Wilson wrote in 1922, 'To those who have closely observed Mr. Reed's career in Washington, he has shown himself incapable of sustained allegiance to any person or any cause. He has repeatedly forfeited any claim to my confidence that he may ever have been supposed to have, and I shall never willingly consent to any further association with him.'

"He is the man who wishes to destroy the reputation of any man who dares to assert any independence of his selfish egotism.

"He is the man who criticizes falsely and recklessly the law practice of a private citizen and yet, as a senator of the United States, wielding great political influence through his power over appointments and his opportunities to shape legislation, is actively engaged in the practice of law. How far, it may well be asked, are his professional efforts influenced On Feb. 9, 1924, the publit press carried the significant information that throughout a great part of his senatorial career Senator Reed has been employed as special counsel by the Universal Oil Products company, the proprietor of which is Ogden J. Armour, the principal figure in the packing interests, and the fee Senator Reed was to receive in the event of victory was estimated by his envious conferees at anywhere from $250,000 to $1,000,000.

Influence Not Constructive

"Some authorities said that it might be twice or three times either of these figures quoted.

"He is the man who bitterly opposes the present widespread, heart felt desire of the American people to co-operate with the other nations of the earth to work out in common case the problem of world disarmament and world peace.

"He is the man who cannot point, after years of service in the senate, to a single constructive reform which he has advocated or aided.

"He is the man who falsely said in a recent speech that 'no living man can point to a single great lawsuit which McAdoo has ever tried in court.

"The records in the United States court in Kansas City, Reed's own home refute him because I tried one of the most important lawsuits in the history of American jurisprudence before Judge Van Valkenburgh in 1919. I refer to the case of Smith vs. The Kansas City Title and Trust company, in which the farm mortgage bankers, who had bled the farmers by usurious interest rates and hard conditions in farm mortgages, attacked the constitutionality of the federal farm loan act. After this law the farmers in every state of the union were getting thirty-five-year farm loan mortgages at a rate of interest not exceeding 6 per cent per annum, including the annual amortization payment. The farm loan banks were established by the Wilson administration under my direction as secretary of the treasury and were a godsend to the oppressed farmers. If the farm mortgage sharks should have had the law declared unconstitutional they would again have had the farmer by the throat. Charles E. Hughes and George W. Wickersham were associated with me. Reed has never had a case of equal importance nor has he ever won a victory in or out of court that benefitted as this case did, thirty-three milions of farmer population in the United States.

Invites Comparison

"Neither Reed's law practice nor any law practice is a political issue. The senator admits that he did not regard it of sufficient importance to discuss it if I had kept out of Missouri as a presidential candidate. What is important, however, is the public record. My record as a public official is before the people of the nation. The books are open. The services I rendered are matters of public knowledge. I am willing to submit that record to my fellow citizens, regardless of party, and abide by their judgment. I refuse to believe that the American people will be guided in the slightest degree by the abuse of Senator Reed.

"Of course, the people know that Reed, with his experience in politics, has no idea that the Democracy of America, which repudiated him in state and nation four years ago, will now turn to him and exalt to the highest office within the gift of the American people. Of course, the people know that Reed is seeking to obtain control of the delegation from the state of Missouri, for "trading purposes" in the New York convention.

"Senator Reed says he is a man of courage. Has he the courage to come out and say for whom he is now the stalking horse? Will he tell the voters to whom he intends to trade the Democratic delegates of Missouri whom he seeks to take to the New York convention pledged to do his political will? Will he tell the Democrats of Missouri why he would be willing to trade his silence about me for the unobstructed opportunity to secure delegates from Missouri?

"I ask the support of every voter in Missouri who believes in these principles and these policies. Senator Reed is important only as he is an obstacle to their achievement.

(Signed)

"WILLIAM G. M'ADOO."

Aggie Herring Shows Versatility in Film

The versatility of Aggie Herring as a character actress is shown in "Pioneer Trails," a Vitagraph super-production in which she will be seen at the Electric Theater on Tuesday and Wednesday in "Pioneer Trails." Miss Herring plays the part of "Laundry Lou," a miner's widow who is compelled to take in washing for a living.

Her romance with "Easy Aaron" Cropsey, played by Otis Harlan, is one of the interesting secondary themes in the plot of "Pioneer Trails." Through her love and interest Cropsey, an itinerie lawyer and philosopher, rises to the heights and saves the hero from a false charge.

"Pioneer Trails" is a delightful story of the period following the gold rush of 1849. Unusual thrilling scenes depicting the hardships and courage of the early settlers in the West are shown in the picture. An Indian massacre of members of a prairie caravan furnishes one of the most thrilling and dramatic sequences.

"Pioneer Trails" was directed by David Smith, who produced "The Midnight Alarm," "Masters of Men" and "The Ninety and Nine.' Cullen Landis and Alice Calhoun head the all-star cast.

There is no more
Busier man in the World than he who
Minds his own business.

Reading what a critic has to say has spoiled many a fine book or play for a lot of us.

Once upon a time there was a relative who gave financial help to a kin and never reminded him of it but all fairy tales start with "Once upon a time."

Uncle Abner, the town philosopher, says there is nothing in the world to make a man a success like a good wife.

Perhaps the reason some people are cheerful is because they don't let their debts worry them.

Just let a man be prepared for an emergency and that particular one never turns up.

The writer of a thrift article was lamenting the fact that the American women are wasteful. He pointed out that stockings are no longer darned but thrown away. How can you expect them to darn stockings when they don't usually wear the kind which will stand darning?

A certain shiek kissed a girl when he called on her the other evening and her small brother saw him. "What shall I give him so he won't tell?" asked the frightened youth. "Oh!" she replied, "fifty cents usually seals his lips."

A country cousin who got caught in a traffic jam the other day said it reminded him of the man in the midst of a stampeded herd on the western plains you used to read about.

We have a few captains of industry but many major generals of laziness.

Some men can score a point in an argument about as successfully as a woman can hit a nail on the head.

No question about it, the Golden Rule was intended for the other fellow.

An old motto says something about being "sure you are right." "But," says a cynical bachelor, "a married man knows he is wrong."

We bet a convention of pessimists would be a gloomy affair.

The court house cynic says he has never found anything so bad as the opposing political party said it was or as good as his own claimed it to be.

Here is a little story we heard in a cigar store the other evening:

A couple of sailors got into a discussion over the kind of animal a heifer was. One sailor claimed that the heifer belong to the hog family, the other that it was a variety of sheep.

Finally, they called in Boatswain Bill.

"Bill, wot's a heifer—is it a hog or is it a sheep?" they said.

Boatswain Bill bit off a large chew reflectively. Then he said:

"To tell you the truth, mates, I dunno much about poultry."

Louise, the stenographer, says the quickest way to make an enemy of another is to out-do him at something.

"All the world is a stage," Shakespeare says. Perhaps it was in his day. All we have found it to be was a workbench.

You say there is nothing new under the sun. Perhaps there isn't but most any merchant is willing to sell you "something just as good."

VAGRANT MUSINGS.

A lot of people keep straight only because they are afraid they will have to pay for it afterwards.

Apparently a lot of people think the way to be interesting is to exaggerate.

It sometimes happens that a henna woman is really henna.

The man who thinks his next summer's garden will pay should be put in the same cell with the fellow who thinks he understands women.

The more a person doesn't know the less he doubts.

VETERAN OF GEN. GRANT'S STAFF GIVES EVIDENCE

Major E. T. Ellis, direct aide to General Grant during the sixties and for the past forty years a prominent figure in the business and civic affairs of St. Joseph, Mo., residing at 503 South 8th street, is still another to add his name to the thousands who are endorsing Karnak. No one throughout the entire country is held in higher esteem and respect by his fellow citizens than Major Ellis, and his statement will be read with interest everywhere. He says:

"I say from the bottom of my heart and without fear or ravor that Karnak has put me back on my feet, so that for the first time in weeks I can walk about town and visit my friends. I simply feel like the medicine has given me a new lease on life, and I never tire telling others about Karnak. I suffered from high blood pressure and disordered kidneys for more than twenty years, and for the past several years I had stomach trouble in its worst form. My appetite was entirely gone, and my digestion was so bad that what little I did manage to eat seemed to do me more harm than good. In fact, my whole system was 'shot to pieces' so to speak. I was terribly bothered with weak, dizzy spells, and my my nerves were so on edge I would lie awake most of the night and then get up mornings feeling completely worn-out. I also had the most severe pains through my back, neck and shoulders which I could never account for and treatment failed to relieve.

"Honestly, I was so surprised at the improvement in my health after my second bottle of Karnak that I spent several days telling my friends about the medicine. If it was not my own experience I wouldn't believe a medicine could do what Karnak has done for me. It has made a clean sweep of the stomach trouble, kidney disorders and dizy spells. I am not now bothered with blood pressure, and I eat hearty, sleep like a log, and get up feeling fine and fit. In fact, the medicine has put me to feeling like my old time self again, and I like to find each day people who are in ill health and tell them about Karnak, for it gives me real pleasure to help others who are suffering. No doubt Karnak has thousands of boosters, but just count me in the one hundred per cent booster class, for I can't say enough for the medicine."

The regular price for Karnak is $1.10 per bottle. Substantial benefits guaranteed or purchase price refunded.

Playing ten high school games this season the Spoofhound quintet of the Maryville High School concluded its schedule last Thursday with the fast Rosendale team with a string of seven games won and three lost, a percentage of .700 for the entire year.

The feature of the season's play was the defense of the Spoofhounds that was developed, as is illustrated by the low scores to which the opponents were held. The average number of points per game that were scored against the Green and Black men was only 13.8 while the Maryville courtsters bettered this average for the year's games by 10.3 points.

Four 1923 Cagers

With the beginning of the court practice after the first week in December, Harold G. Ebert, High School coach, had a nucleus of regulars, Ogden and Smith, from the 1923 team, and two substitutes who had won letters, Chick and Willoughby. Masters and O'Banion were lost by graduating and Fannon did not return to school. A big squad turned out for practice and from this aggregation Coach Ebert finally selected Ogden, Chick, Wright, Brown, Smith, Willoughby, H. Miller, Cockayne, Dow, Kissinger and Bush for two combinations and every man got a chance to play in at least one game. Kissinger, however, did not start in school until after the second semester.

The first game was with Blanchard, Ia., High School quint, played on the Iowa court, and resulted in a victory for the local men. A practice game during the Christmas holidays against former High School stars showed possibilities of a fast aggregation and the rough spots which had to be eliminated.

Lost to Lafayette

Maysville and Fairfax were successfully dealt with but Lafayette High of St. Joseph proved a stumbling block for Ebert's men, but the tilt was too close for comfort, the locals losing by one point. Ogden was unable to get his eye for the basket and only looped one field counter.

Next came Maysville, Trenton, Savannah and Excelsior Springs, which were all won except the last game with the Springs' quintet, which displayed a decided reversal of form in the second game. The last game of the schedule, with Rosendale, was also dropped, but only after a fierce battle with the rangy lads from Andrew County, who have made a splendid record and have a consistent lists of wins. The score in this contest was exceptionally low, ending 11 to 8, and in this game like many of the others, the Spoofhounds were strong on the defense, and likewise were the opponents.

Ogden Made 85 Points

The ranking of the individuals of the scoring machine as to number of points made in the ten high school games since December 21:

First: Ogden—85.
Second: Chick—68.
Third: Bush—36.
Fourth: Kissinger—18.
Fifth: Smith—14.
Sixth: Willoughby—11.
Seventh: Brown—9.

Six of the ten games were played on the local court. The Spoofhound team is entered in the Northwest Missouri High School basketball tournament that will be held at the College gymnasium Friday and Saturday of this week. Most of the teams that the local cagers have met this season are entered in the tourney and the Spoofhounds may be able to avenge some of the three defeats handed to them during the year at the tournament.

Coach Ebert has developed his men until they are all able to pivot with dexterity; the passing of the team is good and the short pass has been used to advantage in some of the games. The five-man defense is resorted to. Since the middle of the season the Spoofhounds have shown marked improvement on follow-up shots and there are now from one to three Spoofhounds on the back board when the leather is tossed for a counter.

Many Will Graduate.

All but four of the squad will be graduated this May, which will leave Coach Ebert, Smith, Kissinger, Cockayne and Miller, around which to build up a team next season.

Ogden, who was high-point man, has shown marked ability at dropping in a counter when most needed. He is exceptionally fast and rangy, being one of the three tall cage shooters on the squad. Chick, his running-mate, is a fighter from the start and was next to Ogden in caging the ball. He is good on floor and team work.

Bush, center, who has been used in the majority of the games, is an aggressive player, and although not always able to secure the tip-off, made up for this deficiency by his co-operation with the other members of the team. The two regular guards, Captain Smith and Willoughby, do not have the advantage of tall stature, but have held down the opposing forwards all season with marked success. Willoughby is a good man near the opposition basket and always fights for all he is worth, no matter how the score stands. Captain Smith has worked well with his teammates and has piloted the Spoofhounds to a successful season. Smith can always be seen in the thick of the fight and handles the ball well.

Enter Tournament

Kissinger is another man who has been used several times throughout the year and in one game, with Excelsior Springs, was high-point counter for the team. ("Fox") as he is known at the High School, has the advantage of being able to get up in the air and has showed much progress since the beginning of the second semester. There are few men who will be able to out-jump him and when hot is a repeater on putting the ball through the mesh. He should prove to be a valuable man next year.

The other members of the squad, Miller, Cockayne, Brown, Wright and Dow, although not as accurate as the regulars, were all hard fighters. They deserve much credit and gave the others a hard run for the team.

It now remains to be seen how the Spoofhounds perform at the district tournament this week with thirty-four other cage teams fighting for the title. The most serious contenders which the Green and Black wearers will have to dispose of in order to prove themselves district champions are the Rosendale, Maitland and Lafayette High School fives. Both Rosendale and Lafayette have won over the Ebert men and Maitland is the only team which has proved itself superior to the Rosendale quintet this season.

PARNELL WINNER DISTRICT TITLE

FINAL SCORE 49 TO 17

Wins Over Rosendale for Class B Champion—Has a String of 24 Victories.

The Parnell girls basketball team defeated the Cameron High School sextet by a score of 49 to 17 in the final game of the tournament Saturday night, thereby winning the girls championship of Northwest Missouri.

The game was fast and cleanly played, although the superiority of the Parnell aggregation was shown at every stage of the game.

In the first few second of play, the Clinton County cagers chalked up the first two points and only in these few second did they have a lead over the Nodaway County team. At the end of the first quarter the score was 15 to 5. In the second quarter, Parnell made fourteen points while the Cameron cagers were making two. The third quarter ended 40 to 12 and the final count was 49 to 17.

Cameron won the Class A loving cup by virtue of their victory over the Bethany team. Parnell won the Class B trophy by their 34 to 32 win over the Rosendale sextet.

The Nodaway County team won the Grand Championship cup, presented by Raines & Chaves, by their win over Cameron.

The three cups were presented the winners by Uel W. Lamkin, president of the Northwest Missouri Teachers College after the game Saturday night.

The Cameron sextet was also presented with a basketball by Irvin Bartram, a salesman for the Winchester Company. During the basketball season, this organization offered a prize of a basketball and football to the salesmen with the best sales record. Mr. Bartram won the prizes and asked for two basketballs and gave these to the College to present to the runners-up in the tournament last week and the boys' tournament to be held Friday and Saturday of this week.

The last game Saturday afternoon was played between Parnell and Rosendale and perhaps was the fastest and most exciting game of the tourney. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 7-all. The half ended 18 to 15 in favor of Parnell and from then on Parnell was always in the lead but not a safe enough margin to put the game on ice and there was always a chance for Rosendale.

The Parnell sextet has had a most successful season, winning twenty-four games and losing one, and that was to Skidmore, whom they afterwards defeated twice. This is the second year that the girls have played basketball and have been under the tutelege of Miss Mildred Davis. Last year the Parnell girls met defeat in only two games.

So far since the beginning of the 1923-24 school year five cups have been won by the champions of Northwest Missouri. The Parnell team won the Nodaway County tournament, the outdoor tournament for Northwest Missouri teams last fall and at the recent tournament was winner of Class B and the grand champions.

The Parnell players and the class in which they are in school:

Seniors: Elma Miller, forward; Gretchen Bishop, and Zella Harvis, substitutes.

Juniors: Giesken, jumping center; Wilson, guard.

Sophomores: Hall, guard; Pauline Jones, forward; Katherine Jones, substitute.

Freshman: G. Prather, running center; B. Sharp, substitute.

Parnell will have a girls' tournament on March 15 in which some strong girls' teams are entered.

Eight Teams Entered in Class A and Twenty-Six in Class B—"M" Men's Club in Charge

Thirty-four boys' cage teams of the Northwest Missouri High School Athletic Association have entered the tournament that will be held here Friday and Saturday and fight for the district title. Eight teams in class A and twenty-six teams in class B have sent in a list of eligible players.

The drawings will take place at 8 o'clock Friday morning and the first games will commence a half an hour later. Both the boys' and girls' gymnasiums of the State Teachers College will be used all day Friday in order to facilitate the running off of the games in a smooth manner.

Tht tournament will be conducted under the auspices of the "M" Men's Club of the College. The officials of the tournament are the same that officiated the girls' tournament: Sam Dubin of Bedford, Ia., Kirby, Ellis, Young and Richards. H. L. Raines is the official timekeeper.

For the preliminary games fifteen minute halves will be played and for the semi-finals twentyminute halves are to be played. Thirty-two games will be necessary to complete the tourney. The finals in class A and class B will be played Saturday afternoon and the final game for the grand champion of the tournament between the winners of each class will be played Saturday night.

The class A teams that have been entered are:

Tarkio, Stanberry, Cameron, Lafayette of St. Joseph, Albany, Maryville, Mound City and Bethany.

The twenty-six teams in class B are Fillmore, Corning, New Hampton, Fortesque, Barnard, Conception Junction, Gower, Westboro, Mount Moriah, Pattonsburg, Pickering, Maitland, Sheridan, Grandview, New Point, Burlington Junction, Ravenwood, Skidmore, Oregon, Guilford, Parnell, Rosendale, Converse, Hopkins, Quitman and Bolckow.

Expect 40 Entries in High School Tourney

Rosendale Asks to Enter and Gets Entry Blank—to be Held Columbia March 14-15

Columbia, Mo., March 3—Thirty high schools were included in the first draft of entry blanks for the eighth annual State High School Basketball Tournament, which is conducted each year by the athletic department of the University of Missouri, that were sent out last week. About forty high schools are expected to enter the tournament, which is to be held here March 14 and 15.

Plans are being made to conduct the games in both gymnasiums at the same time, thus cutting down the entrants, as rapidly as possible. All the semi-final games will be played in Rothwell gymnasium.

There will be three classes again this year with the winner of the class A tournament being declared the winner of the state basketball championship. Last year Westport high school of Kansas City won the cup after it had been held for two years by Kansas City Northeast high school.

Entry blanks sent out yesterday to schools that have asked to be entered include: Westport, Central, Northeast and Manual high schools and De La Salle Academy of Kansas City; Central high school of St. Joseph, and the high schools in Canton, Parnell, Sedalia, Centralia, Appleton City, Bellflower, Armstrong, Grain Valley, Bevier, Washington, Hamilton, Boonville, Center, Louisiana, Mendon, Prairie Hill, Rosendale, Columbia, Madison, Sweet Springs, Laddonia, Tipton and Fornfelt.

Springs Girls Were Royally Entertained

The following is taken from the Excelsior Springs Standard of last Friday and speaks of the manner in which the basketball girls were entertained while guests of the College during the tournament last week:

"A telephone message from Miss Mary Legate this morning states that the team was being handsomely entertained and royally treated. The girls are jubliant over their victory of this morning and their fellow students here are concentrating on good wishes for the game tomorrow morning."

OBITUARY.

James Herschel Leech, son of Mr and Mrs. Cornelius Leech was born June 13, 1922, and departed this life February 22, 1924, age 1 year, 8 months and 9 days. He leaves to mourn his loss, Father, Mother, two sisters and one brother, Haroid L., Melba Lorene and Neva Arletta. Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday February 24, at 2:30 conducted by Rev. Bowan of Maysville. Burial was in Oak Lawn cemetery at Maysville.

Oh! his lips are so cold and quiet today;
How we miss the sound of his voice,
And the patter of little feet in their play;
That sound made our hearts rejoice.

But they too are stilled by the hand of death
That came like a fallen leaf;
That was wafted down by an Angel's breath;
But, Oh! it brought us such grief.

There are things in this life we can't understand.
But God knows everything best;
And he will take each one by his guiding hand;
And lead us all to eternal rest.

Such a dear little patient sufferer was he;
It is so sad to think he must go;
But his sufferings are over, God willed it to be;
And he plays while the crystal streams flow.

Little Herschel is sleeping that last sound sleep;
Will awaken on earth no more.
Our hearts are so heavy, we cannot but weep;
But will meet him on that Golden shore.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

IN MEMORIAM

of Mrs. E. W. Willoughby who passed away two years ago today.

There are stars that go out in the darkness,
But whose silvery light shineth on,
There are roses whose perfume still lingers.
When the blossoms are faded and gone.
There are hearts full of light and of sweetness,
When no longer their life current flows,
Still their goodness lives on with the living,
Like the souls of the star and the rose.
Darling mother, you are not forgotten,
Your memory shall never fade,
Loving thoughts will always linger,
Round the spot, where you are laid.
Sadly missed by husband, son, and father and mother.

WESTERN NEBRASKA IS IN DANGER OF FLOOD

Attempts are Being Made to Dynamite Huge Ice Jam Which Threatens Disaster

Schuyler, Neb., March 3—After a week of strenuous activity by dynamiting crews, the waters today were creeping toward Schuyler, threatening a disastrous flood.

Larry Rouse in charge of the dynamiters, said that the river was set over the lowlands, and that it had been necessary to close the state highway which crosses the river here.

Rouse said that reports had been received of another ice gorge at Fullerton, Neb. up the river, which has been considered dangerous by overflowing into the lowlands. If this gorge should suddenly give way, it would release a flood that would do heavy damage.

"JUST A MINUTE"

Extract from the Democrat-Forum's edition of March 1:

Dreyer Dry Cleaning Co. Puts in Operation Outfit That Has Continuous Clean Naptha Supply.

The newest and what is said to be the most efficient method of cleaning clothes by the dry cleaning system has been installed by the Dreyer Cleaning Co., recently.

William Dreyer, proprietor, has discarded his former machinery and secured an outfit from the Glover Co., of Kansas City that is the only plant of its kind this side of Kansas City in the state of Missouri.

The new plant has a capacity of 600 to 700 gallons of cleaner's naptha, whihc is purified continuously by chemicals. The clothes to be cleaned are put in a revolving tub in which this continuous supply of pure clean's naptha is sprayed. A pump is constantly in motion which pumps out the impure naptha, which first goes through what is called a Master's Box, which starts the fluid, taking out all lint and dirt. There are five different grades of screens in this compartment. All the dirt is then pumped off and the colored naptha pumped to a separate tank where it is then purified and then used again, giving a continuous supply of the cleaning naphtha.

A glass gauge, which shows the naphtha running from the tub of clothes, indiactes when all the dirt is taken out of the clothes by the color of the fluid. The clothes are then put in the extractor, a revolving tub which has a speed of 1,300 revolutions a minute.

The clothes are then put in a drying compartment and allowed to become partment and allowed to become perfectly dry before pressing. Mr. Dreyer said that it is possible to clean, dry and press a garment in 45 minutes.

The clothes before being put through the dry cleaning process are first classified, all silks, whites, gray, medium and dark clothes being put through the process separately.

Mr. Dreyer has this plant in a fireproof cement block building on his property on West First street.

A little less than two years ago we opened a dry cleaning establishment in this city with one idea in mind, to give the public of this community Dry Cleaning Service which is only obtained in the large cities. We believe through our efforts and your confidence that this has been accomplished.

We introduced to this community one day cleaning and pressing service with no gasoline odor.

Some eight moths ago we introduced a new system of Dry Cleaning known as the "Running Stream System." There is no question but what this system was a great improvement over previous methods. And now we have the greatest system known in the industry, the Glover Continuous Purifying System, which we have just installed at a big expense in order that we may carry out our original idea in giving you the very best there is in Dry Cleaning.

There is an old saying that "seeing is believing." In order that you may see the efficiency of this wonderful plant, we cordially invite you to come to our cleaning plant on West First Street, oposite St. Patrick's Church and see it in operation any morning between 10:30 and 12, noon.

Yours most sincerely,

DREYER DRY CLEANING CO
